Design

Our products are designed to high technical levels, but also at competitive prices due to innovative ideas and international production in large quantities.

Manufacturing

Today's demand for quick deliveries are overcome by a large stock in Vejle, which for our distributors function as backup stock.

Improvements

The interaction with customers bring forward new solutions and improvements, which we constantly try to implement in the products.

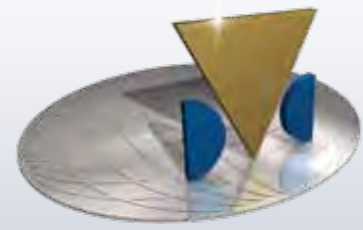

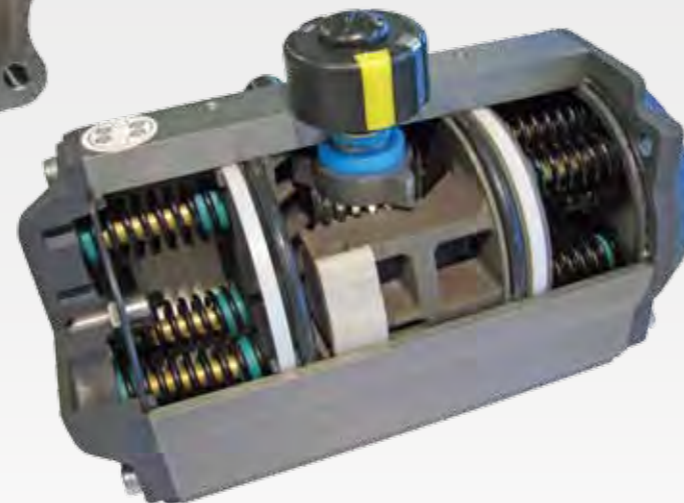

Flexibility

We aim to be flexible in our customer approach, and timely deliveries, information before the need and cost effectiveness are in focus constantly.

Distributors

The need of our customers, both the distributors and their customers drive our business.

We aim to build long term partnership with our distributors and to contribute to the success of both distributors and end users
